Candidate Statement:

I'm Adam, a recent computer science graduate who was involved with the QMU extensively throughout university. I served several terms as a CSR and spent a year as tech convenor, so I know this place inside and out. I continue to spend a lot of my time here, whether by lighting gigs, helping with tech, or drinking whenever a fictional guinea pig is mentioned. My main focus is therefore the tech committee, alongside ongoing improvements to the building and its facilities.

Manifesto:

As FSR, I pledge that I will replace most of the broken lightbulbs in Jims. In 2024, I swapped all the 5000K bulbs with 4000K ones, and as far as I know nothing has happened since. I believe this much needed maintenance will bring in over a billion pounds (£1,073,741,824) per year of additional revenue.

I would also like to contribute to some upgrades to Games bar, such as installing some par cans for basic stage lighting, and fairy lights. I think these upgrades would make the room more appealing and be relatively cheap.

I would like to upgrade the system on which the lighting in Jims operates, allowing for quizzes, jazz nights, or karaoke nights to make use of the stage lighting without any complex tech setup required. This should be achievable with a reconfiguration of the equipment currently there and some regular maintenance on my part.

I pledge to introduce a measurement system relating to the concept of bacon within the QMU. This will facilitate the introduction of Bacon flavoured HAVKs and other porcine related paraphernalia.

I will work to provide ladles free at the point of need to the QMU's membership base [but no guarantees].

I will try my hardest to get Bradley Walsh to headline freshers week next year. Not sure what he'd do on stage, but we can workshop that with him later. Maybe a diving show?

Also, world peace.
